

STRESSES THE VALUE OF HELIUM IN COMMERCIAL AVIATION IN THE FUTURE

Dr. Moore Outlines to Chemical Society Importance of This Form of Gas Instead of Hydrogen.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 24.—The value of helium in future commercial aviation, as well as for use in lighter-than-air craft was outlined to the Petroleum Chemistry division of the American Chemical Society today by Dr. Richard B. Moore, of New York, in one of a number of important scientific papers read to the delegates attending the organization's convention.

Declaring the Dime, ZR-2 and Roma disasters would not have occurred had helium instead of hydrogen been used to lift them, Dr. Moore, who formerly was chief chemist of the United States Bureau of Mines, described recent developments in the production and recovery of this non-inflammable gas and, pointing out that the United States controls practically all of the supply, he spoke vigorously against a proposal for its exportation.

"The cost of production of helium is being so rapidly reduced," he added, "that within a year, or two the difference between the cost of hydrogen and helium will be relatively small and need not be taken into consideration. As regards lifting power, the fact that helium has some disadvantages is admitted, but there are so many other advantages in favor of helium that the difference in lifting power should not in any way militate against the use of this gas."

Chatham

(Special to The Bee)

CHATHAM, Va., April 24.—Intelligence received here by relatives announced that Mrs. W. T. Hodges wife of Dr. W. T. Hodges of Williamsburg and Mary College, Williamsburg passed away in Richmond on Saturday and was laid to rest in Williamsburg on Sunday afternoon.

She had been in failing health for several weeks. Dr. Hodges was born and reared near this place but for many years has been connected with Williamsburg and from which institution he graduated.

Miss Margaret Hodges, Messrs. J. W. Year and F. B. Watson of this place and Mrs. Lena Hodges Yeatts of Danville attended the funeral.

Work on the filtering plant for the town water supply is now under way and it is hoped that the increase in supply will feel the needed want for water for many years to come.

Land is now in fine order for plowing and farmers are very busy turning up and planting corn. Tobacco plants are reported plentiful but following the cool days of the first of the week flies are becoming very annoying and farmers are resorting to insecticides to prevent their beds being ruined. Warm weather will cause the flies to leave the plants but weather such as the past few days will destroy them. A large quantity of tobacco is being planted and it is expected that a large acreage for tobacco is being planned.

Mrs. G. E. Thompson and G. B. Thompson returned Monday night from visiting relatives at Lester Manor, Virginia.

Mrs. John Evans and baby, Evans, left for their home in Wilmington, N. C., recently accompanied by Mrs. H. C. Shepherd, mother of Mrs. Evans. Mrs. W. T. Canada is visiting relatives in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Mrs. C. H. Hancock recently returned from a short stay in New York.

Ground was today broken for the new brick building fronting on Main street and to be used for W. E. White, dealer in sheets, metals and tinware supplies. The building will be about one hundred feet long and will be ready for occupancy by late in the coming summer.

Miss Ruth Marks of Woman's College, Lynchburg, and Miss Margaret Lynchburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Jones of University were at home for Easter.

G. H. Vaden for several days on the sick list is very much improved. The Chatham Chapter Royal Arch Masons will on Friday night give a banquet in the Crowell Auto building on Main Street. Covers will be laid for about two hundred and the occasion will be of good fellowship and fraternal feeling. Many ship and members from out of town will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Jones, have both been on the sick list this week but now very much improved.

Miss Alice Rebecca Tredway after a stay of several days at her home, here recently returned to Washington.

Leakesville

On Sunday the Odd Fellows Memorial will be held at the First Christian church. A large number of visiting members are expected from Greensboro, Martinsville, Danville and Fieldale.

The local lodge will attend in a large number.

Four-Story Office Building Under Way

The Leakesville-Spray Company's four-story office building at the corner of Washington and Monroe streets is now under construction. Foundation excavating was started the middle of the past week by the Hendrick Construction Co., who have just recently finished some of the best streets of the town. The building when completed, will represent a cost of about $100,000. The three upper floors will be leased as offices while the first floor is being built to accommodate several stores. The construction of the building is in charge of the local lumber company.

Working Conditions Somewhat Improved

Part of the Marshall Field mills are still running half time on account of the present condition of the market and the national slump in textile sales. The Rhode Island mill of the Marshall Field group is now running full time, giving hope that conditions will soon change for the best. The Leakesville cotton mill of the Marshall group is closed down, but will resume work the 29th. It has not been definitely announced whether this mill will resume operations on full time or the half time schedule. The Moorehead mill of the Marshall group is now running full time. Plans Under Way For New Episcopal Church.

It has been fifteen years since the Rev. Mr. Gordon built his first church on Flint Hill. At the time of its construction this section was what might be termed the tenderloin of Spray.

For fifteen years he has worked and brought to his church the present quite a large congregation.

Now plans are under way for a new Episcopal church to be built probably on the old Fraker property, Carolina Heights, as his congregation has outgrown his little church on Flint Hill.

JAPS COME NEAR FIRING ON BAND OF AMERICANS

(By The Associated Press.)
ABORD THE UNITED STATES DESTROYER JOHN D. FORD, KASAWARARA BAY, Kuriles, April 24.—Several officers from the destroyer Ford were mistaken for Russian outlaws while hunting yesterday, but timely explanations by Captain G. O. Clark, military attaché of the American Embassy at Tokyo, kept the Japanese guards on the islands from trying to shoot them.

The Americans, who had been subsisting on reduced rations en route northward from Tokyo to greet the United States army fliers, had wandered inland in search of fresh meat and were ambushed by two Japanese employed as watchmen for a small cannery.

The Japanese explained, after cordial relations were established, that they had seen no other human beings for months but had feared the Russians would come to the island. After explanations, the Japanese promised future assistance in game hunting.

The Ford narrowly escaped a collision with the Japanese destroyer Tokitsukaze, the harbor yesterday, when a rip tide caught the American ship. The anchorage later was shifted to avoid further danger.

The John D. Ford is mounting a cold, wet, snappy fog and various degrees of freezing weather.

Wireless communication with the United States Navy station at St. Paul, Alaska, has been established. The John D. Ford is now ready to fly from Katak to join his fellow fliers at Dutch Harbor. Unalaska, was received here with much satisfaction.

EXPEDITION OFF TO UNCOVER OLDEST AMERICAN STRUCTURE

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 24.—The National Geographic Society announced today the dispatch of an expedition to Mexico to uncover in the ruins of Cuicuilco, South of Mexico City, the oldest structure yet found on the American continent.

Professor Byron Cummings, leader of the expedition, in preliminary observations, disclosed an artificial mound 412 feet in diameter and 412 feet high and the explorers believe it probable that a thousand years before the first pyramid was built, some monarch of the valley of Mexico forced his subjects to erect a great monument to him.

Skeleton remains of Americans of 7,000 years ago, specimens of their emblems and idols and pieces of their earthenware found at Cuicuilco by Dr. Cummings, he believes, have opened up new theories about origin of human life on the American continent.

Fugitives Still Come to Danville as Hiding Place

Fugitives from justice show no disposition to avoid Danville as their hiding place notwithstanding its well known reputation as a "coaching up" place for men in various states. Police records show a number of recent apprehensions of men wanted for various sorts of crime indicating keen vigilance on the part of the whole department. Yesterday Robert Nicholson was taken back to High Point to stand trial for car stealing and and Wentworth, N. C., officer called for Sam Price wanted there on a minor charge.

Edgar Williams is the latest fugitive to be arrested here for the Alabama authorities. He was taken into custody at seven o'clock this morning by Chief of Police Cole, of Schoolfield and Police Sergeant J. H. Martin, who recently was asked by the authorities of Lanett, Ala., to look for him. Williams is wanted there for breaking and larceny. He was found at No. 70 Lee street, Schoolfield at 7:30 o'clock morning and yielded without a struggle to the police sergeant. He was taken to the jail in Greensboro, S. C. authorities. He has been working in the Long Mill and is said to have jumped bail in the Palmetto state today.

S. B. Dorsey, Wilson, N. C., is expected here today to gather up another alleged miscreant, Mike Landers, a negro who is wanted there for failing to meet his bonded requirement.

Ed Reynolds arrested in New Mexico recently for robbing the "Canon Ball" express in a sensational auto ride, was taken to Danville and worked for many days in a local hotel. Reynolds was born in Linn street and lived his early life here.

According to the records maintained by J. C. Elliott of the police department from May 1923 until the end of March, 38 fugitives from justice have been arrested here, identified and turned over to officers from those localities which sought them.

Saw Mill Owner Fined Under Terms of State Fish Law

J. J. Bullington, proprietor of two saw mills near Axton was fined ten dollars and costs this morning by Police Magistrate R. S. Pitts on two warrants charging him with violating the state fish and game law. The warrants charged that he permitted the waters of Sandy Creek to carry off saw dust which is injurious to fish life and that he actually prohibited the law violation was found to have been unintentional and through ignorance of the state law which bears on the point. Bullington has two saw mills and the cutting of timber is done over the water of the small river thus scarring off the saw dust which otherwise would have to be carted away. Report of the police was reported to the spot and found that the reports were accurate and that the dust from the mills was being carried down stream.

Donald Lee, commissioner of game and fisheries, recently sent special instructions to all game wardens in the state calling attention to the injurious sawdust on fish which has been known to denude trout streams entirely.

Oppose Any Great Increase In the Tobacco Output

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 24.—While demand for cigarette tobacco is increasing in this country and abroad, the department of agriculture "feels that a hazard exists in any such violent increase in tobacco production as that contemplated in Georgia," where the department learns, bright where the tobacco industry has extended into nearly thirty new counties. Inexperience of growers, expense of equipment and uncertainty of market prices are among the factors.

Combined acreage of principal cigarette types, the department reports, was 1,169,000 acres last year and increased planting is indicated this season.

INCENSED AT CHARGES.

(By The Associated Press.)
BERLIN, April 24.—The German Railway authorities are incensed at the charge made in some quarters as the result of the train wreck in Switzerland that Germany was supplying antiquated rolling stock for international trains. The Germans point out that an objection had been raised previously by the Swiss authorities to the type of German cars used for regular traffic between Berlin and Milan.

The scarcity of sleeping cars and coaches equipped with electric light, is explained on the ground that Germany is behind in its construction of modern type cars due to the heavy deliveries of rolling stock on reparation account.

The German Railway experts, for their part, expressed surprise that a baggage and mail car had not been inserted between the engine and the passenger coaches.

CAKE-EATER BANDITS HAD PLENTY NERVE

(By The Associated Press.)
TAMPA, Fla., April 24.—Two unmasked "cake-eater" bandits, each wearing haircuts of the newest and latest dance hall variety, with sideburns, today perpetrated the boldest daylight robbery in the city's criminal history when they stole an automobile from a busy residential street of West Tampa and relieved him of four packages containing $24,000. They left one package of $24,000 in Clewis' car.

Describing the bandits, Clewis pictured them as young men of the dance hall habit type, each about 25 years of age. "Each wore sideburns, the variety seen on young men frequenting soda fountains and pool rooms," the banker said.

Police of the two municipalities were tonight running down numerous clues, while sheriffs offered tak into custody and released several suspects. The robbery was committed on a busy street and was witnessed by a number of women and children. Three have given corroborative descriptions of the bandits.

WHEELER PROBE IS SPEEDED UP

Committee Investigating Indictment Hopes For Early Report.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 24.—Proceeding as rapidly as possible with the hope of making an early report, the Senate committee investigating the indictment at Great Falls of Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, was called together again today by Chairman Borah.

W. L. Goodman, A. Sparling and J. E. Wallock, who were members of the grand jury which returned the indictment, were here today for questioning.

William G. Feely, Washington attorney for Gordon Campbell, the Montana oil operator for whom Wheeler is accused of acting in federal land matters, was called today as the first witness. He testified that under a verbal contract made with Campbell in March 1923, he represented Campbell in land cases before the Interior Department but said he had never had any consultation with Senator Wheeler or his law firm on these matters.

"Senator Wheeler had absolutely nothing to do with it," the witness said.

Twins Release Catcher Dehaney

WINSTON-SALEM, April 24.—Two more twins were sent admit today, pink slips being handed out to Catcher Dehaney and infielder Weeks. This brings Jackson's roster down to 17 men, including himself, he having released Pitches Elliott after his moon showing against the Guilford County Quakers yesterday afternoon. Elliott, who is the property of the Asheville Skylanders, departed on an early morning train for the mountain city.

The local boss regretted to part with Dehaney, who is a fine backstop as well as a good hiter, but as the big chap is a class man, he said it was necessary to get within the law which permits only four class men in the line-up. Dehaney should have no trouble in finding a berth. He already has offers from two Piedmont League clubs.

ALAKLI IN SOAP BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mul-sified coconut oil shampoo, which is pure and greaseless, and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mul-sified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store; it is inexpensive, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—adv.

Committee Meets to Decide On Bid For Craghead St.

The Public Works Committee of the council met at half past two o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of making a definite recommendation to the council regarding the re-surfacing of Craghead street for which bids were opened yesterday. The major issue before the committee this afternoon is whether Craghead street should be repaved with Durax block or whether asphalt could be used effectively on a street which carries a great volume of heavy traffic. The three firms which tendered proposals of money to smooth the entire stretch of Watson street, since the appropriation provided in the budget for the next fiscal year is $80,000. If Durax block were used, and there is a belief in some quarters that this would give the most durable street surface, it would cost $50,000 and would not leave a sufficient margin to provide the permanent improvement of Watson street. In any event, the street car company will have to bear its proportionate part of the paving undertaking and would have to lay solid surface between the car rails. This probably would entail an expenditure of about $5,000. The low bid has not been made known but it is reported that the contract lies between P. C. Lavinore of Richmond and McGuffee and Rolfe of Richmond, the former likely to win the award of asphalt for Craghead street is decided upon and the Richmond concern if the Durax block is considered best by the Public Works Committee.

ALLEGED BANDITS WHO SLEW TWO AMERICANS IN ALBANIA ARRESTED

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, April 24.—Two men, bandits who murdered Robert L. Coleman, of San Francisco, and George B. DeLong, of New York, have been arrested in Albania and are being taken to Tirana, the capital, for examination, according to Albanian newspaper reports. The names of the men are given as Veyzel Ydris and Seseper Hajdal Beka. Both prisoners lived in the neighborhood of the village Kruja, where a punitive expedition was sent immediately after the murder of the two Americans, the gangster killing the followers of Veyzel and Seseper.

The two bandit leaders have been notorious for years for their marauding expeditions throughout the back country, operating from retreats in the mountains. Seseper is reputed to have held almost absolute sway over the tribesmen in these regions. Practically all his followers are armed, though the Albanian government has made repeated efforts to disarm them.

McAdoo Asserts Wall St. Wants to Control Govt.

(By The Associated Press.)
SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 24.—William G. McAdoo, speaking in the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for president last night, asserted Wall Street wants to retain control of the government because it desires to use the funds of the federal treasury.

The bankers, he said, would rather control the treasury than any other division of the government. The National City Bank of New York, he declared, had a clerk in the comptroller's office in Washington copying off

City Game Warden C. E. Kelley today called attention to the approaching lapse of the period of grace in suspending the State dog tax law. After May 1st, he says, it will be incumbent on him to issue warrants against dog owners who have not met the State requirement by making payment. On February 1st the five percent penalty was added and to meet the tax today it is necessary to pay $1.65 for the male and $3.15 for a female dog. Mr. Kelley stated that he thought many people had overlooked the provision of the law and that he wished to give ample warning so that the tax could be paid instead of the fine which ranges from $5 to $50. According to the game warden, Danville has a canine population of two thousand on which taxes are paid on an average of approximately one thousand. The dog assembly in this city ranges from a highly pedigreed hunting dog to a mongrel of uncertain origin but none the less affectionately regarded by their masters.

JAIL COLONY OF WOMEN IN CHICAGO GROWS

Fair Prisoners Form Sewing Circle—in For Various Sorts of Killings

By MARGARET DALE
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)
CHICAGO, April 13.—The jail colony of Chicago women, murder suspects, numbered down to 13 has resolved itself into a picturesque sewing circle, lacking none of the characteristically evident in similar noteworthy feminine gatherings out of prison.

Chicago "bull pen" for women at the most of the comforts of home. The women are pretty much their own housekeepers, dressmakers and help-

And the resulting clubbiness among them has surprised the jail matrons. Each accused of killing a man. While jealousy is alleged as the cause of most slayings, this trait is remarkably lacking in the sewing circle.

The writer who visits these prisoners week after week noticed a faint atmosphere of resentment when pretty Mrs. Beulah Annan recently was added to the group. The others thought of the effect her beauty might have on the jury, who tried her. But Mrs. Annan, who is charged with slaying Harry Kaistfeld, a young man who courted her while her husband worked, new is a full pledged member of the circle.

The last trace of class distinction vanished when a gaudy, titled, former wife of a wealthy society man, joined with the others recently in contributing with Mrs. Sabelle Nitti-Crudelle, sentenced to hang, the decision of the supreme court granting her a new trial.

Mrs. Gaertner, who is charged with killing Walter Law, young automobile salesman, after a babaret party has maintained a certain aloofness. But she gradually worked with Mrs. Nitti-Crudelle, who never wore shoes until she entered the jail, and never enjoyed the comforts of a mirror. Mrs. Nitti-Crudelle was convicted of slaying her husband at a lover's behest.

Katherine Belek Maim, Chicago's 15-year-old "lger girl" lends much to the life of the daily parties. Her unselfishness and cheerfulness has caused other inmates to dub her "The Girl With The Big Heart." Katherine was captured in a robbery that culminated in the slaying of a watchman.

Then there is the more quiet Mrs. Elizabeth Unepacher, who ran away with a plumber because her husband was too "practical" and is believed to have slain her lover when the husband went insane from grief.

APRIL PROVING HARD MONTH FOR BANDITS

Executions Will Halt Many Who Want Only to Shoot Officers.

By L. C. OWEN
(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee)
SAN RAFAEL, Cal., April 23.—April is proving a hard month for the variety of thugs and bandits who want only to shoot down officers of the law in commission of crime.

With the double hanging at San Quentin prison here Monday, William Brinkhurst and Willard Thompson, who murdered two Los Angeles policemen, the tally of desperate gunmen who have expiated such crimes in various parts of the country since the first of the month was brought up to six.

Before the month is over, two more will be added to the list from this state, bringing California's total contribution to four out of eight, an unprecedented instance of stern law enforcement which is proving an excellent deterrent to further slayings of peace officers.

California's started the program of hanging police-killing bandits early this month when it sent William Campbell, who slew an Imperial Valley peace officer, to doom on a San Quentin gibbet.

Illinois checked off next two executions of similar nature, when on last Good Friday, Lucius Dalton and Henry Wilson, negroes, were hanged in Chicago for the murder of Patrolman Vincent Skiba.

On the same day "Diamond Joe" Sullivan, a notorious killer, was officially put to death at Little Rock, Ark., for the slaying of Policeman L. C. Hayes, Brinkhurst and Thompson, who were hanged at the same day, were hanged in Good Friday victims of the hangman's noose, but because of protests of clergymen of many denominations against the execution of that day by legalized killings, they were spared the gallows.

The two policeman killers who are yet to meet their doom before the end of April are Isaac Wolfgang, who also shot a Los Angeles peace officer, and who will be hanged next Friday, and Frank Yeager, who killed a San Joaquin Valley deputy sheriff, and who is scheduled to hang the following week.

The outstanding element in all four of the executions already carried out here this month was the complete loss of nerve by the supposedly "hard boiled" desperadoes when they faced the certainty of death. In every instance it has been only through encouraging words of spiritual advisers that they have managed to stand with support, while the fatal trap was sprung. And in every instance, guards had virtually to carry the so-called desperadoes from the death cell to the waiting noose.

That the police have developed vindictiveness in taking the death of brother officers who fall before bandits' guns was attested by the presence Monday at the hanging or Brinkhurst and Thompson, of nine Los Angeles policemen. The two men hanged shot down patrolmen William Ebert and Harry Clester, two of the most popular members of the Los Angeles department, more than a year ago. In order to see the law exact its vengeance the nine Los Angeles policemen paid their own expenses to the scene of the hanging.

But on the faces of all nine appeared fleeting expressions of compassion or mercy as the police killers were hurried into oblivion. An even more complete loss of nerve than yet has been evidenced by the four already hanged is expected to develop Friday when Isaac Wolfgang, also a Los Angeles police killer goes to his death. Wolfgang is already in complete physical and mental collapse and is not expected to hold his own on the day of execution. In order to carry out the death sentence, the prison authorities have prepared a long beard to which the slayer will be strapped in his cell to be carried to the scaffold and which he will be trusted as the trap is sprung.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

It was with mixed emotions that I drove home. I was not quite sure, Little Marquise, just where I was wrong in my estimate of what was due a wife, and where Sally was right.

Of course I knew that Sally Atherton cared very little for Sam. I knew that she had come to work for Jack because she wanted to get away from him. It seemed to me that something out of the years they had spent together would be hers still. It seemed to me that if my employer had not mentioned the great trouble for even if it were not a great grief, it must have been a great trouble. I had passed through it. I would have felt that he was lacking in sympathy.

I don't believe I'd ever make a business woman. I said to myself. I don't believe I have enough of the masculine turn of mind. Little things mean so much to me. I dream and have felt that he was lacking in sympathy.

Ever since I got that beautiful letter from Jack, Little Marquise, I have been thinking of him. I presume as something such a letter had come to him. I wanted his arms about me. I wanted the kisses he spoke about to close my eyes that I might keep within their lowered lids the happiness that threatened to overflow.

That letter, Little Marquise, was one of the very infrequent thrills that I have received lately. I think that had I not received it, I should not have gone to the train in answer to the suggestion of that wire. But having received it, of course I expected to find not a man, but a lover; and really, Little Marquise, you who have had a great lover know that there is a wonderful difference.

It is very hard, after you have been living in the ethereal clouds of emotion, to come back to earth with a thud. I don't quite understand how men can do it. They seem to like parachute drops, and they gaily smile, even if they reach terra firma with a bump, and run away to their every-day affairs seemingly to think that if they wish it, they can make another balloon ascension into the rare emotional ether.

Perhaps that's where we women make a mistake. We enshrine Eros as our household god, and we try to pay daily worship to him, although all sorts of other duties intervene. Consequently we neither do what is right by love or by the other things which are necessary in our daily life.

Men, on the other hand, have a distinct idea of what shall come first, and then they graduate the importance of their duties way down along the line. Of course we women think that with them as with us, love should come first, but instead, knowing the necessities of material things, men put ambition and power first—ambition to make a success, and success always includes power.

Sometimes I think that power is the dominant desire of all masculinity. Man wants to be all powerful, even in his love. A man wants to make all those who contact with him to do so in his own way. There is the clash and a battle of life.

All the joy had been taken out of Jack's homecoming for me by his nervous annoyance when he first saw me. Perhaps I'm just a silly woman, but if Jack had met me with that tender smile and speech at the train that he made to me as he jumped hurriedly from the car at his office the whole complexion of my day would have been changed. I would have driven him to the office with a happiness-filled heart that would have sung until I met him again.

I expect I ought to be happy anyway, for although the tenderness came late it was there. "Take the good the gods provide" is pretty good advice, isn't it?

Isn't this enough of my reactions for the time, Little Marquise? Anyway, I think I will close.

Danville to Have Rate Expert Here

The Chamber of Commerce has not reached a decision in the matter of the choice of a secretary for that body, to succeed Henry B. Watkins who has resigned to enter other employment. With the selection practically narrowed to three persons, the directors planned to have each of the three under consideration visit this city at different times in order that the members might get a fair idea of the equipment of each for one month of the local post office in the family of the first one invited to make the trip, a delay has ensued.

The Chamber has entered into an arrangement with the Norfolk Chamber whereby the Danville body will acquire the services for one month of the assistant traffic manager of the Norfolk organization. The gentleman, who is expected to arrive here early next week, is Mr. Boyd who has had considerable experience in this rather technical and important work. It will be able to start the new traffic secretary ship of the Danville Chamber on a good basis. In the event his work is impressive and he commands the approval of the directors he will probably be offered the post of traffic expert or secretary for the local Chamber.

Employment of such an additional official is part of the plan of the Danville body to secure a more advantageous freight rate basis, if possible and in any event to prevent even charges in freight which are liable to occur anywhere unless a traffic secretary familiar with ratings and the technical details of that work is available.

In the event the oning system of freightage is approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission, there is a definite hope that Danville will secure a more advantageous position with respect to freight rates, with the Virginia and the Southern railway there making it a competitive point. If the zoning plan under consideration be ultimately adopted, Danville being in less than 50 miles of such a basis point will be entitled to the same preferential rates and would stand in advantage over many other points.

CITIZENS MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

The campaign for the procurement of recruits for this summer's military training camps is now on and the military authorities have appealed to the American Legion for assistance in bringing the advantages of this excellent training to the attention of the young men of Virginia, "according to Post from Department Commander John J. Wilkey, Jr.

All healthy young men, ages 17 to 24, of good character are eligible to attend. Uncle Sam pays railroad fare to and from camp and all necessary expenses while there. All former service men realize the necessity of giving the youth of our country elementary military training. With a small Regular Army and National Guard, it is essential that other means of protection be provided. One of the best plans is undoubtedly the Citizens' Military Training Camps, if our country is to be prepared against future emergencies.

The main camp will be held at Camp Meade, Maryland, from July 1st to 30th inclusive, while the camp for advanced Coast Artillery training will be held at Fort Monroe, Va., at the same time.

The quota for Virginia this year is 618 but it is highly important that at least 1,000 applications be obtained so that a larger allotment may be made our state in future years.

Your post is strongly urged to get behind the C. M. T. C. campaign and to make it a point to see that every eligible boy in your community is given an opportunity to send in his application for the summer's camps. The legion has never yet failed in any patriotic duty. Let's do our part in filling Virginia's C. M. T. C. quota."

"GREAT COUNTERFEIT OF CHRISTIANITY"

Wangelist T. B. Westbrook addressed a large appreciative audience last night at the "Back to the Bible" hall at 225 Main street. His subject was "The Great Counterfeit of Christianity" and he handled it in such a way as to cause his whole congregation to desire the true.

Mr. Westbrook's text is found in Matthew, the second chapter and the fourth verse. Along with this text he placed many others including a prophecy found in the seventh chapter of Daniel. All of these he said referred to Papal Rome whose head, the Pope of Rome, has instituted the counterfeit Sabbath.

The subject tonight will be "How shall We Escape it?" Neglect of the great Salvation. Tomorrow night Mr. Westbrook will discourse on the subject "Was Jesus of Nazareth the True Messiah?" or "Modernists Teaching Under Fire."

PRISONERS SENT BACK TO NORTH CAROLINA

Robert Nicholson of High Point, N. C., arrested here on Saturday night charged with stealing a Ford roadster from the Carolina city, was taken back to stand trial yesterday. Nicholson, who according to the police admitted the theft, waived the formality of requisition and readily agreed to return. Nicholson had been tried in Danville since the place within city jurisdiction. However since the principal witnesses are from North Carolina it was considered best to turn him over to the North Carolina authorities.

Sam Fride, alias Paul Wilson was also taken back yesterday to Westworth, N. C., where he is wanted for jumping bail bond and for an alleged violation of the liquor law. He also dispensed with requisition papers.

Lack Citizenship Evidence Glaring

The U. S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Naturalization, in bulletin No. 4702, advises that "approximately 15,000 naturalized defenders of the Nation" lack evidence of citizenship. These defenders were naturalized during mobilization in camps and in the military units were being transferred from the mobilization camps to the theater of war.

Of the 275,513 who served in the military of naval forces of the United States naturalized since the declaration of war in 1917, over 18,000 have not received their copies of the certificates of naturalization held for them in the Bureau of Naturalization, according to a report just made public by the Hon. James J. Davis, secretary of Labor.

It is of the utmost importance to these men and their families that they obtain evidence of citizenship. Property and personal rights and privileges are involved, not only of the individuals naturalized, but of their families as well. The minor children of a naturalized sailor or soldier born abroad, but now residing in this country, are entitled to the benefit of the parent's naturalization. The widows and minor children of deceased heroes who served during the world war are entitled to the protection afforded citizens and their dependents. Without evidence of citizenship of the husband or the wife or widow would have difficulty in proving her American citizenship.

American Legion posts throughout the country are asking their members to advise their naturalized comrades to take immediate steps to secure their certificates of naturalization.

SUGAR CO. CASE ABRUPTLY CLOSES

Corporation court ended somewhat abruptly yesterday afternoon at half past two o'clock when Judge D. P. Withers was unable because of physical inability to continue the civil case instituted by the Franklin Sugar Refining Company against Mahan and Threer. Part of the evidence had been heard during the morning and the involvement of the case seemed lengthy arguments by counsel two attorneys being here from Richmond would have extended until late in the afternoon.

Judge Withers explained the situation to opposing counsel and the sugar company took a non-suit meaning that it is dismissed from the docket with the right to reinstitute it later. The jury was at once dismissed for the term and the few motions which remain to be heard will also probably go over until the next term.

It is no secret among friends of Judge Withers that the recent protracted civil term has been somewhat of a physical ordeal for the court who has been suffering acutely from rheumatism. Yesterday he was advised by his physician not to go into the case but with out of town attorneys in Danville he made the effort largely as an accommodation for them. His condition grew worse during the morning and at dinner time his suffering was such that friends urged him to relinquish the case. Similar action brought by the sugar company against Cobb Crews, Co., stands continued on the docket. The amount involved in the Mahan-Threer suit was about $2,000 the question revolving about a shipment of sugar rejected by the defendant company.

SOUTH BOSTON MAN SEVERELY BURNED

(By The Associated Press) SOUTH BOSTON, Va., April 23.—D. Frankie, one of the owners of the Boston Ice Cream manufactory here, was severely burned about the face and eyes about 3:30 this afternoon when he removed the cap from a tank or drum of ammonia. He was removed to his home on Broad street, where he was treated by Drs. Briggs and Faulkner. The extent of his injuries is yet not definitely known, nor is it known whether his vision will be affected by the injury to his eyes. Eugene Frankie, his brother, was killed in a football game at Chatham on Thanksgiving Day, 1922. The Hotel Boston, situated just above the ice cream plant was subjected to the rising fumes, which were so strong that guests had to leave the building, owing to the rapid formation and spread of ammonia gases.

C. F. Arthur, representing the Southern Railway, and W. R. Glidden, bridge engineer of the State Highway department, will arrive in South Boston today for a conference with James S. Eastley, F. L. McKinney and Mayor James B. Wilbourne relative to plans for the construction of a bridge over the Dan River. The survey has been completed, and the two first named officials have gone to Richmond to make their report. The specifications will soon be sent out and bids will be asked on the construction of the bridge.

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dull, brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Reveals Divorce Secrets

By NORMA TALMADGE

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., April 24.—Wives do not tell on husbands. Even in divorce court, the public confession of shattered romance, few women reveal the actual cause of disillusionment and disappointment.

Men, making light of woman's "inability to keep a secret," don't suspect how unutterably far that is from the truth.

These observations I make after reading thousands of letters recently sent me by divorced wives from every section of the country in connection with my picture, "Secrets." While preparing this film my husband, Joseph M. Schenck, suggested that I ask the women of America to tell me their real reasons for marital separation. Their identity, of course, was to be masked. They were to confess to a stranger. The replies, having every mark of frankness, were amazing.

Desire to Shield

And out of these admissions this essentially maternal and gallant attitude is disclosed as the reason why so few wives tell the whole truth about discarded mates: The desire to shield even the meanest and most petty of men from public humiliation, the desire to save them from being made a laughing mark.

Science the frequent dramatic inventions under the conventional grounds of cruelty, infidelity, non-support desertion. Pretended reasons, often, which allow men to bear the dreaded respect for cruelty, but seldom the stigma of fools or weaklings.

Here are a few of the confessions, the real secrets, culled from the letters:

"My husband was getting too effeminate. I divorced him because he smoked perfumed cigarettes and rolled his socks. 'Cruelty' was the charge."—M. W. Dallas, Tex.

"I dearly loved my husband. The trouble started when he bought those trick purses with a combination clasp. It was bad enough when he operated it to give me housekeeping money. But when we were out with friends and it was his turn to treat, he never could work the combination until the other fellow had paid the bill. Finally it wrecked our home. I secured my decree on 'incompatibility.'—B. H. New York City.

"Tears is the infernal secret behind our divorce. My husband was always blubbering a six-footer, acting like a baby; crying with temper, jealousy unwarranted, at any disappointment. Finally his tears drove me to deliberate aggravation in his home and I thank your ex-wife that she had strike me or assert his manhood. He did knock me cold once, and I was supremely happy. He apologized—in tears. 'Cruelty,' I told the judge."—G. W. Long Beach, Cal.

"I believe my husband never surmised the reason I divorced him. It was really because he thought it silly to romp with me and our half-grown children. He thought it was a young clerk in his office who, in since respect, told him what a fine wife I must be, the kind he'd like to marry. My husband didn't contest the decree, on charge of 'inhuman treatment,' because he foolishly thought he was making room for the clerk—M. J. Vancouver, D. C.

"I'm telling you now what I was ashamed to tell a Denver judge. I had a husband who had artistic notions. For eight years I put up with a Chinese case suspended over the bath tub and a painting of Napoleon in the kitchen. 'Intemperance' hid my secret."—V. S. Chicago.

and weep," but I do say to many a divorced man, "read them and thank your ex-wife that she knew how to keep a secret."

TOUCHING OBSEQUIES OF MRS. AMY L. HATCHER

The funeral services of Mrs. Amy L. Hatcher, widow of Robert L. Hatcher, were conducted at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from her late home, 221 Mount Vernon avenue, by the Rev. J. R. Hite, pastor of the Baptist church, who read the Epistle from the book of Isaiah. In the stead of Rev. J. M. Sheilburne, D. D., now absent from the city. An unusual large outpouring of friends of the family and of the deceased attended, the gathering being one of the largest seen at a private funeral for long.

The services were simple yet touching and grief was evident throughout the funeral and committal services. In addition to the usual funeral services a chorus of friends sang the hymns, the service at the home closing with "Asleep in Jesus." A long bridge, followed the body to Green Hill cemetery where it was laid to rest in that beautiful spot with a brief committal service. Rarely does one see more floral expressions of sorrow and sympathy than marked the funeral. When these had been laid upon the grave, it was completely covered with the fragrant and beautiful blossoms.

The pall was borne by W. L. McKee, R. Bruce McKee, James P. McKee, Homer Ramey, Clyde Carter and P. W. Ashworth.

The flowers were borne by Leighton Brainerd, C. C. Parrish, Winston Edwards, Lloyd Bray, J. P. Eskildson, W. W. Mrs. Chas. Womack Dies at Wilson, N. C.

Mrs. Charles A. Womack died yesterday morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. James Fitzgerald, at Wilson, N. C., aged 75 years. She had not long ago suffered a stroke of paralysis, but had apparently recovered from the seizure and was in usual health for one of her age. No details of her death were conveyed in the message announcing it.

The body will be brought to Chatham, and funeral services will be held at her old home about nine miles from that place tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 3 o'clock, and the interment will be made in the family burial ground.

Mrs. Womack was Miss Nannie Younger, but was united in marriage nearly sixty years ago while young to Mr. Womack, who survives her, together with their seven children, who are: A. W. Womack, of Pittsylvania county; Dr. C. T. Womack, of Martinsville, Va.; Dr. Lawson Womack, of Chatham; Mrs. Lawson Hardin, of Upper Montclair, N. J.; Mrs. James Fitzgerald, N. J.; Mrs. James Fitzgerald, N. J.; Mrs. James Fitzgerald, N. J.

Mrs. Womack was a type of the old Virginia gentlewoman and was greatly esteemed and beloved, particularly by the elder generation.

A THOUGHT

That which is altogether just shall thou follow.—Deut. 16:19, 20.Wrong cannot have a legal descendant.—Thomas Paine.

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 1924.

"PLAY BALL"

The voice of the umpire is again heard.

"Play ball."

In that raucous cry, so sweet to the ear of the fan, is written a whole philosophy of life. It is a symbol of the spirit of the American people.Napoleon, it has been said, was defeated on the cricket fields of England.
By the same reasoning, the blow that sent the Germans reeling back to Berlin had its beginnings on the sand lots of America. Baseball cultivates the spirit of teamwork and of fair play.As the Romans are remembered for their gladiatorial contests, and the Spaniards for the bull fight, so baseball will give to future historians a clue in estimating the soul of the American people.In baseball, everyone plays the game, spectator and player. Baseball is the only mob game we have. Each single play is open to the on-looker, and each fan enters the game from beginning to end. Even the umpire is subject to correction without notice. The fans exercise lungs and limbs. They also use their heads.
They follow the play closely and demand and get a clean game, fair play and a just decision are characteristic of the great American pastime from the manager's bench down to the lowest fan.The season now opened will be welcomed by the great public that follows in person or through the sports columns of the newspapers. The great game will be at its best this year, and at its cleanest, squarest and highest mark.

THE THAW CASE OVER AT LAST

It is a relief to know that the most recent of the Thaw cases is over and that sane or insane, he once more returns into obscurity which at least is well earned after the prolonged notoriety which has been his. Few men of the present generation have run the gauntlet of the courts so persistently and in so many varied actions as has the one time millionaire whose trial for the killing of Stanford White waxed his trial to doubtful fame.
Just now the only fly in the ointment is the woman who caused his repeated appearance in the court. She is confronting his journey to complete freedom and remains an obstacle in the goal for which he and his millions have been assiduously working.In the matter, however, the Thaw billionaire again promises to play a silent, effective role. He is planning an allowance for his mistress and it could be effective in unleashing the woman's unrestricted freedom.
More than that, there is enough of the old Thaw in the long run and the old Thaw in the long run and the old Thaw in the long run.

LANDS IS PROPOSED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Expenditure of $2,700,000 annually by the secretary of Agriculture for protection and reforestation of timber lands would be authorized under a bill passed by the House today and sent to the Senate.The measure, proposed by Representative Clark, Republican New York, would provide for cooperation by the agricultural department with states in the reforestation of fire hazards and distribution of forest tree seeds and trees, and further assistance would be given to farmers in the establishment of wood lots.The measure also provides that a man who is guilty of murder or a crime of violence shall be liable to live in a swamp in the next world.

been," which, of course, we are not.
we can safely trust to the future to provide for all our needs. The history of America's industrial growth and expansion has been the history of mechanical development. It is safe to say that this country never could have absorbed the millions of immigrants that were welcomed without the additions incessantly made to the country's equipment of machinery. The consuming power of the land grew as fast, if not faster, as its productive ability. That we shall consume more in the future than we have in the past is plainly forecast.

The current high wages may be relied on to prevent any serious curtailment of consumption, and maintenance of the wage rates seems assured through immigration restriction and the slowness with which new mechanical devices will be introduced and commonly employed. The maintenance of high rates of wages will be of itself the explanation of the constantly increasing demand for more articles of consumption. At least this is an argument well supported.

A sentimental objection to the prospective curtailment of immigration is that the country will lose its prestige as the "refuge of the oppressed of all the world." It will not be received with wide favor for an excellent reason. The necessity for such a refuge has been eliminated.

In the war slogan, "make the world safe for democracy," was expressed the popular determination to put an end to political oppressions of the kind that for several generations had been driving the flower of European populations to the United States. If this was not one of the achievements of the victorious nations, conditions have been created which make it possible for the peoples to prevent instead of running from oppressions.

NEW YORK, April 24.—A wonderful suggestion recently reached these shores from Paris. A society over there, that goes by the name of the "Prix de la Paix," has decided

LAW IS IGNORED BY LAW

SOCIETY

John Henry has bought Mary Live-wire a beautiful wedding present. He says the girl cost him a lot of money before she dropped him, but as this is his last payment he thought he would be nice about it.

GARDEN HINTS

If you want radishes for dinner, according to the optimistic and cat-alog they should be planted early that morning.

DIVORCE

Perhaps the quickest way to make your wife want a divorce is to ask your kindfolk to live with you without paying board.

MARKETS

Increased demand for swimming holes is reported.

HOW TO MARRY

Trying to reform a man is the quickest way to marry him. It makes him feel good over having been a regular devil.

ADVERTISING

Does your skin burn after shaving? Let your whiskers grow and do them up in pink ribbons.

SPORTS

Most umpires have held their jobs a number of years and built up reputations for fairness. But don't let that fool you. It is only natural that you should know more about baseball than a man who makes his living by knowing.

EDITORIAL

Washington radio stations report the results of careful inquiry show the people like jazz programs the best of all. Just the same, we don't think the government should jump from issue to issue as it does.

Supply and Demand Violated

There is a common saying that breaking a mirror means seven years' bad luck. Well, breaking a law may mean even more bad luck than that. A man in St. Louis broke a law and a judge gave him 50 years' bad luck. There is also a common belief that the supply of laws exceeds the demand. But more laws are being made every day. We don't know why more are made, unless it is because the old ones wear out from being broken so often.

If we had fewer laws we might be able to take better care of them. My, how true! My, how true! Let's go fishing.

FARM NEWS

Farmers are working their roads for summer tourists. Dismissed motorists so they can pull autos out of them.

TO STAY SINGLE

Sit on a barrel until you get so bowlegged a girl falls through when she tries to sit in your lap.

AUTO HELPS

The jack in the tool kit will not help fix a puncture as quickly as the jack in your pocketbook.

RADIO NOTES

"Who will pay for broadcasting?" is the radio question. More people would listen in now if it cost money.

MUSIC NOTES

Never sing jazz songs. Sing something soulful so people won't ask you to sing so often.

CLEAN NEWS

Do not burn your old letters. Save them to read some Sunday when the funny paper doesn't come.

HAYMES LAUDS DANVILLE SPIRIT IN "CO-OP" ORGAN EXPLAINING CREDIT CORP.

J. R. Haymes, assistant director of warehouses of the Co-Operative Marketing Association, writes in the current issue of the Tri-State Tobacco Grower, official organ of the organization an interesting review of the establishment in Danville of the Agricultural Credit Corporation of Virginia. Mr. Haymes who is one of the leading figures in the movement, pays tribute to Danville in sponsoring and promoting the financial institution and declares further that "Danville is not as bad as advertised." In denouncing the real uses to the farmer of the Credit Corporation, Mr. Haymes says:

"It provides for them a source of credit, which they have never had, and will, in time, place them in a position where they can finance the production of their crops on a cash basis, and thereby save for themselves the high rate of interest which they now necessarily have to pay when they purchase their fertilizer and other supplies on time. And the most important feature of this movement for our membership, and the immediate benefit derived by them from its existence, is that it establishes their participation certificates as a collateral for a loan, and places the most humble member in our association in a position where he will be assured when he presents his participation certificate that it will be recognized as such and which will be cementing one rock in the foundation of our association which is essential to our ultimate success."

Spirit of Cooperation

"I wish that every farmer could have been present at this meeting and caught the spirit of cooperation that prevailed among the five hundred business men and farmers who were present. It demonstrated that "In union there is strength," and further demonstrated that Danville is not as bad as advertised, and that there are a lot of good men in Danville who stand ready with their influence and finances to promote the interest of the farmers of the state and lift them to a higher standard of living."

Loans for Production

"The purpose of this corporation is to loan to the farmer for production purposes alone. It cannot receive any deposits. It is authorized by an act of Congress, which body, realizing that the farmer needed a source of credit as well as any other line of business, created a law whereby it is possible to organize these corporations in every state of the Union, with a minimum capital of $10,000."

"The Intermediate Credit Bank agrees to rediscount the loans made by these corporations, and are permitted to rediscount to the amount of ten times the capital stock of the corporation."

"The corporation is not allowed to charge in excess of 1 1/2 per cent. of the rate of discount charged by the Intermediate Credit Bank. Their present rate of interest is 5 1/2 per cent., consequently the discount we will necessarily have to charge the farmer at this time will be 7 per cent., which would have been in violation of the legal rate of interest in the State of Virginia, until our last Legislature in session passed a law almost unanimously permitting the Agricultural Credit Corporation to charge the 1 1/2 per cent. in excess of the rate charged by the Intermediate Credit Bank, which law is applicable to these corporations alone."

Danville Headquarters

"It is our purpose to have the headquarters of this corporation in Danville, Va., and let all loans pass through the Danville institution. The advantages of this are numerous, some of which are:

"1.—The government recommends that they be formed with one central head."

"2.—A corporation of one-half million dollar capital could be operated for practically the same expense as one with fifty thousand dollar capital, and naturally the small corporation would not be a sound financial venture for the stockholders as a large corporation would be avoided."

"3.—The business men generally of the State consider this plan the most feasible and has advantages over numerous small corporations."

"There are other reasons which are useless to mention."

"There will be a director elected by the stockholders from each district now represented by the directors in the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association. The charter provides that we can have a minimum of five or a maximum of twenty-five directors, and all loans will be allocated to that district in proportion to the amount of stock subscribed by that district, approved by the loan committee, appointed by the stockholders in the different localities of that district."

"This stock will be sold at a par value of $100 per share, payable one-tenth cash, balance in 6 per cent. interest-bearing notes of equal amounts payable in 6, 9 and 12 months."

"We propose to hold in the near future a meeting of the business men and farmers of the several markets of both bright and dark-fired tobacco districts for the purpose of soliciting subscriptions to this corporation, and I am looking for every locality to respond freely."

SORE, BLEEDING GUMS STOPPED IN 12 HOURS

Crescose, A Pleasant Liquid That Accomplishes At Home all the Good Benefits of Treatment In Dental Chair Without the Pain and Expense.

Sore, bleeding gums indicate the beginning of pyorrhea. If neglected the infection spreads from the gum tissue to the root sockets—the foundation on which your teeth depend. Then the teeth fall out or must be pulled. Through a new discovery, Crescose, a pleasant penetrating liquid, medicated with gum healing and germ destroying ingredients used by the dental profession carries the medication direct to the roots of the teeth, relieving pain, tightening loose teeth, healing pus pockets, destroying decayed teeth odors and killing the germ that leads to pyorrhea. The medicines used in Crescose are not new, but are well known and used by the entire dental profession. The new discovery is the method of penetration which carries the gum-healing, germ-destroying medicines direct to the roots of the teeth and into every nook, corner and crevice in and between the teeth, thereby accomplishing at home, in a pleasant way, all the good benefits of a treatment in the dental chair, without the pain and expense. If your gums are sore and bleed easily or your teeth sensitive or loose, this is your warning of pyorrhea ahead. Do not wait one minute, but go immediately to any good drug store, and purchase a dollar bottle of Crescose with the positive guarantee of relief in twelve hours or money refunded. IN ALL THE WORLD NO CAR LIKE THIS

"Yes, our Jewett beats them all up-hill"

YOU'LL hear Jewett owners everywhere talking like that. Jewett is a foe feared and respected on hills. It takes most every hill in high; even picks up on hills. Wherever there's a bad bit of climbing you'll probably find that Jewetts have time and again proved their superiority.

On the level you can throttle Jewett down to 2 miles an hour, in high, and with utter smoothness maintain that pace. Then pick up amazingly—from 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds, in high. (Try that with ANY other car!)

Why does Jewett perform so sweetly? Most power for weight. Power for weight determines performance. Jewett has a cubic inch of motor displacement for every 11 1/4 pounds of weight. Compare that with "light" sixes. In them each cubic inch of motor displacement must pull 13.4 pounds, or 14.2, or 12.8, or 17.6. Obviously not one could have Jewett's performance.

Jewett is a Sturdy Six Not a "Light" Six

And Jewett is not a "light" six. It weighs 2805 pounds—200 to 400 pounds more than "light" sixes. Jewett's weight accounts for its strength and sturdiness. 6-inch-deep frame; all-steel universal joints; Paige-Tim-ken axles front and rear explain Jewett's long-life, comfort on the road, freedom from rattles and repair bills.

And Jewett is especially clever to handle in traffic, for its convenient chassis size gives maneuvering, parking and garaging advantages. Yet its passenger space is as roomy as in cumbersome cars. The tallest can stretch and relax. Wide seats—46 1/2 inches.

Jewett's Easy Handling Lures Both Men and Women

Jewett is a delightful car to handle—loved by women, appreciated by men. It steers with touch guidance. Its flexible power makes gear changing rare. You drive from 2 to 60 miles an hour, or more, in high. You can even shift from high to second at 30 miles an hour—quietly! Paige-type clutch is gentle; transmission all but noiseless.

"In all the world no car like this!" It's true. Jewett combines qualities and advantages as no other car does. And Jewett, so fine in comfort, convenience, sturdiness and performance, costs only $1065. Cars approaching it cost hundreds to thousands more and are bulky to handle. You should drive Jewett—yourself—and experience the thrill of big six performance. Note our number now!

DAILY PUZZLE

Here is a puzzling problem which requires a little careful thought. A man has a bed of shrubs. There was the same number of shrubs in each row—vertical and horizontal—the shrubs formed a square. One year he planted shrubs all the way around the bed, so they formed a one-shrub square outside the old shrubs. The square outside the old shrubs was the same distance apart as the old ones; they merely made the rows longer. The drawing shows a corner of the bed, with the rows of old shrubs, and the new shrubs. The man then had 64 shrubs more than before. How many did he have originally?

RECRUIT PITCHER STARS IN BOSTON VICTORY

(By The Associated Press)
BOSTON, April 23.—Singles by O'Neil, Stryker and Bancroft in the last of the 15th with none out scored the run which gave Boston a 3 to 2 win over Philadelphia in the opening game of the National League season here. Stryker pitched the last seven innings, held the visitors to two singles and no runs and made two hits. Stengel's triple and Padgett's infield single tied it for Boston in the ninth. Cough pitched the full game for Philadelphia.

VETERAN JEFF PFEIFFER BATTERED OFF THE HILL

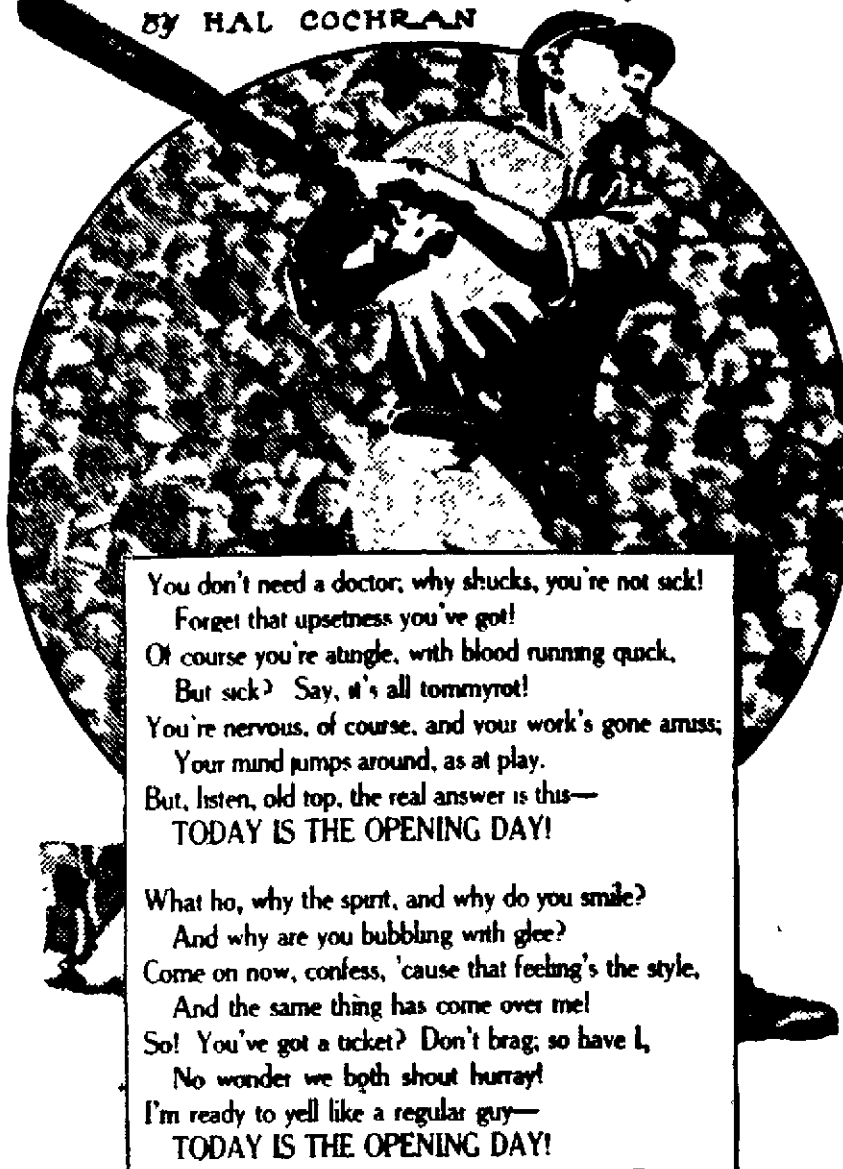

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 23.—Chicago inaugurated the National League season here today by defeating St. Louis 12 to 1. The Cubs were in a batting mood, driving out five doubles and a brace of homers in their collection of hits. "Big Jeff" Pfeiffer was unable to withstand the attack and retired after the second inning.

MAJORS HAVE NO APPEAL FOR SOUTHPAW COURTNEY

CHICAGO, April 23.—Pitcher Harry Courtney of the White Sox has been sent back to the minors. He has been sold to the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast League without any strings attached. Courtney is a most peculiar one. Possessed of enough stuff to easily win a major league berth, he has been a "flivver" his entire career. Courtney first came to the majors as a member of the Washington club, looked good for a while, slumped and was traded to Chicago. Chicago soon tired of him and sent him to San Francisco where he led the Coast League in pitching. This showing caused Chicago to bring him back. However, he showed so little in spring training that he was sent back to the minors before the opening of the season. "I'd rather play in the minors anyway," this peculiar pitcher said.

THEY'RE OFF!

By HAL COCHRAN

You don't need a doctor, why shucks, you're not sick!
Forget that upsetness you've got!
Of course you're at ease, with blood running quick,
But sick? Say, it's all tommyrot!
You're nervous, of course, and your work's gone amiss;
Your mind jumps around, as at play.
But, listen, old top, the real answer is this—
TODAY IS THE OPENING DAY!

What ho, why the spurt, and why do you smile?
And why are you bubbling with glee?
Come on now, confess, 'cause that feeling's the style,
And the same thing has come over me!
So! You've got a ticket? Don't brag, so have I,
No wonder we both shout hurrah!
I'm ready to yell like a regular guy—
TODAY IS THE OPENING DAY!

And in merchandising as in baseball, big success is scored only by deserving it. A product, too, must "deliver the goods."

BANCROFT'S DRIVE IN 15TH WINS, YANKS WIN OPENING GAME AT HOME

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, April 24.—Manager Dan Bancroft of the Boston Braves drove in the run which gave his team a 3 to 2 fifteen inning victory over Philadelphia at Braves field yesterday.

Couch, going the route for the Phillies, weakened in the 15th and Boston broke up the game before a man was retired. Stryker, who relieved McNamara, allowed two hits in the last seven frames. Boston played errorless ball.

After the Yankees had raised the Red Sox outfielder hitting a single and double to leftfield, Babe walked, struck out on three balls delivered by a rookie hurler, and then lifted his second home run of the year into his favorite rightfield bleachers.

The world's champions pounded three Red Sox pitchers for 15 hits and took a 13 to 4 victory in partial toll for their defeats at Boston last week.

Bramham made his third home run of the season in Chicago's 12 to 1 victory over St. Louis in the national league and tied Rogers Hornsby of the Cardinals for major league home run honors.

Cleveland won from the league leading Tigers 6 to 5 in a stirring ten inning battle. After two were out in the ninth, the Indians, tied the score with two runs and four hits. The Tigers tallied one in the tenth but the home team made it a glorious day with 3 hits and two more runs.

Hauser's home run, mixed in a flurry of bingles in the seventh inning helped the Athletics to a 6 to 4 victory over Washington at Philadelphia. The Browns broke their losing streak by winning from the White Sox, 9 to 5, in a free hitting game at St. Louis.

New York, Brooklyn, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati in the National League were not scheduled to play.

Swat Champs Should Report In Big Leagues

Can Rogers Hornsby and Harry Heilmann again upset the dope by leading the major leagues in batting? Right-handed batters have been greatly in the minority as swat champs. For each major league to be ruled over by a right-handed hitter is the exception.

In the National League Rogers Hornsby has a chance to break a record. When he finished on top in 1923 with his fourth consecutive batting title, he tied the record of that organization, held by Hans Wagner.

Hornsby is confident that he will again finish out in front but Roush, Frisch, Bottomley and Wheat insist it's going to be a tougher job this year than ever before.

When Hornsby capped the National League in 1921 with a mark of .397 and Heilmann led the American with an average of .394, it was the first time since 1904 that both the major league batting honors had gone to right-handers.

In 1904 Hans Wagner showed the way in the National and Larry Lajoie in the American.

In 1923 Hornsby and Heilmann duplicated the '21 performance, proving the feat was no fluke.

FIRPO NOW SAYS HE IS WILLING FIGHT ROMERO IN U.S. UNDER CONDITIONS

(By The Associated Press.)
BUENOS AIRES, April 24.—Luis Firpo, South American heavyweight champion, who recently declared his intention to retire from the ring, announced today that he was willing to go to the United States and fight Quintin Romero, Chilean heavyweight provided Romero fought no other boxer previous to their meeting.

Firpo made his announcement last night, informing Juan Horns, representative of Tex Rickard, who said he was calling Rickard to make efforts to call off Romero's match with Floyd Johnson on May 9th and substitute for it a Firpo-Romero bout at a later date.

This reversal of Firpo's much reiterated retirement decision is due, he asserts, solely to resentment at reported declarations by Romero that Firpo feared "him" together with statements of a similar tenor published in the Chilean newspapers.

Horns said that if a match with Romero could be arranged, he had little doubt Firpo would be willing to sign up afterward to meet Harry Wills and Jack Dempsey.

"I might do so," Firpo admitted, but he added that he would make no commitments until after a fight with Romero was assured.

"Romero claims I am afraid of him," said Firpo to the correspondent in confirming his new decision. "The Chilean papers say I am afraid of him. I can't stand that. I will go to the United States and fight Romero provided he fights no one else until he meets me. I want to be the first to knock him out."

"I am willing to go and fight him without a guarantee. His defiance of me is the only reason I have for changing my mind. Regarding Wills and Dempsey, I am not thinking of them."

Horns declared he had no intention of Firpo's feeling regarding Romero until Luis Firpo telephoned him last night.

WON'T CANCEL BOUT
(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, April 24.—The twelve round bout at Madison Square Garden May 9th between Quintin Romero, Chilean heavyweight, and Floyd Johnson, Iowa heavyweight, for which articles were signed yesterday, will not be cancelled to permit Luis Angel Firpo, South American champion, to get first chance at the Chilean. Tex Rickard declared today.

"If Firpo wants to fight Romero here I may arrange the bout later on provided the Chilean defeats Johnson," Rickard added.

Credit Directors Off to Richmond to Interview Sands

Four directors of the Agricultural Credit Corporation of Virginia are leaving Danville today for Richmond, where they will meet Oliver J. Sands, executive manager of the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association at the Richmond Hotel at 8:30 o'clock tonight. A number of important matters are to be discussed with Mr. Sands who is understood to have secured an appointment with officials of the Federal Farm Loan Board in Washington for tomorrow.

In all probability the Danville men with Mr. Sands will proceed from Richmond to Washington for the purpose of participating in this conference. Directors who left this afternoon for Richmond included W. R. Fitzgerald, who is president of the corporation; W. E. Gardner, Thomas G. Burch, of Martinsville, and J. T. Lacy, Jr., of South Boston. Financial aspects of the corporation will be gone into exhaustively by the directors with the Washington officials.

Before leaving today, Mr. Fitzgerald said that while no contract has been signed an agreement has been reached to lease a suite of offices on the first floor of the Arcade building as the headquarters of the credit corporation from which all of its business will be transacted.

H OORAY for April 24th—the day that has long been waited for "Play Ball," that old familiar shout of "The Cmps" will echo around the parks in three cities at 4:15 o'clock this afternoon and the hearts of thousands will have realized a long wished-for day.

And to think that we, here in Danville, the most of us, will have to wait until Monday before we can "cuss" the Cmps. But, boy, we still know how.

But not so bad after all, for when Herb Murphy brings his crew back on Monday they will be here for the whole week, playing Raleigh the first three days and Jackson's Twins the last three. Just think of it! Six days straight and with enthusiasm at high pitch.

The dependable Cudge Harris has won the honor of twirling the opener at the Gate City game today. Harris will strut his stuff, too, for he did not have a chance at the "Patriots" in the series last year and will be eager to cop the game. And Cochlin will receive his benders.

Old King Sol bids fair to be nice to Greensboro these three days and it is hoped that he will continue to shine here next week. If "Old Jupe Pluvius" will just hold his horse and let Old Sol reign, then everything will be "just" pretty.

When Murphy comes home Monday for the opening home game, why not call it a half holiday in Danville like Greensboro and the others are doing today, and let everybody join in on the ceremonies. Herb Murphy plans to have a parade and a brass band at the park and instead of "After The Ball Is Over" it will be "After The Ball Game Is Over."

Bramham Assigns Six Umpires to Work In Piedmont

DURHAM, N. C., April 24.—Prexy W. G. Bramham, of the Piedmont loop, called the six league umpires to his office yesterday for instruction and a discussion of the coming campaign.

Only two of last year's arbiters are back. They are Cy Morgan and Osborne. The newcomers are Jack Kennedy, who umpired in an independent loop last year and who works on a Cleveland newspaper in the off season, Ed Sabrie, the former major league first sacker and well-known umpire, Spencer and Malley.

Morgan and Kennedy, "the young-est veterans," as Jack himself puts it, will work the season with Danville and the Patriots while Sabrie and Spencer will officiate at handle, the Raleigh game. Morgan and Osborne were paired last season but as they were the only veterans back

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenchu, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenchu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show signs of complete recovery, he will gladly return your money without comment. McCall's Drug Store can supply you.—adv.

STRAIGHT DOPE BENNY ON THE RADIO
Showing Just How Much Brains It Takes to Make a Master Baseball Mind

I can stand for a lot of double-edged punishment, including Bulgarian bow ties and people who imitate Fanny Brice, but I know when to demand the finger bowls and the steam about "inside baseball."

From the way some guys write and talk you'd think "inside baseball" was a combination of Mr. Insten's queer ideas and the kind of quick mental arithmetic night taxi cab driver spring on you.

If it takes an inordinate amount of mentality on the part of a well-fed bench manager to pass a heavy hitter in a pinch and take a chance on the weak guy coming up next, then why ain't Mr. Thaw the president emeritus of Harvard?

And then if the weak cookie happens to paste one, the sages of this great intellectual sport merely watch their heads and observe that it was smart stuff even if it didn't work out. That's the beauty about "inside baseball." No matter what happens it was always the right thing to do.

Sending in a left-handed hitter to swing against a right-handed pitcher is a stratagem that simply makes any matter. The cunning manager who pulls this knockout on the opposition promptly qualifies as a master mind and his opinions on all matters ranging from the proper way to carry a three-month-old infant to whether Main street should be widened from the Union Depot to the Elks Home, are eagerly solicited by the community.

Substituting a 10-second base runner for a catcher whose gross tonnage approximates the weight of a beer barrel is another technical maneuver that is absolutely beyond the average mind. This is "inside baseball" blown up to Napoleonic dimensions.

Inside baseball is one-tenth guess work and nine-tenths nerve—and the nerve I mean is the kind a burglar exhibits in ascending from the nursery with a stick of peppermint candy. (Next week S. D. Benny will discuss the latest things in short skirts, if you don't mind)

Kidney Trouble? Stomach Distress?

Huntington, W. Va.—"I was a sufferer from kidney trouble and stomach distress and had tried at least fifty different remedies for both troubles and could get no relief. I had almost given up all hopes when one of my friends suggested that I give Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a trial. The same day I went to the drug store and told the druggist what my trouble was and that I wanted to try Dr. Pierce's remedies. I bought one bottle of the "Golden Medical Discovery" and one of the Anuric (kidney and stomach) Tablets. After taking these medicines I began to feel like a different person. To date I have taken three bottles of the "Golden Medical Discovery" and two of the Anuric Tablets and can honestly say that I have never felt better in my life than I do at present."—F. E. Howland, 344 Twentieth St.

AT MAJESTIC TONIGHT

George M. Cohan's Delightful Comedy, "So This Is London"

Tonight, at the Majestic, George M. Cohan will present his greatest international comedy hit, "So This Is London," with Mr. and Mrs. Cohan in the leading roles, for an engagement of one night only. This laughing success of two nations is the first Cohan production to be presented in Danville since the memorable engagement of "Mary." Rarely in the history of the American stage has any theatrical offering scored such an instantaneous and emphatic triumph on both sides of the Atlantic, as that accorded "So This Is London." This play has just recently closed a phenomenally successful season of ten months at the Prince of Wales Theatre, London, England, after an all-year run to the largest patronage ever recorded at the Hudson Theatre, New York City. This unique comedy, based upon the mutual misconception of British and American "types," as each imagines the other to be, has indisputably demonstrated that real humor knows no national boundary lines. Mr. Cohan believes that the most effective "Lesson of Nations" would be to get to know the other fellow as he really is. Not as you think he is, or as he thinks you are. But as a "regular human being." It is in getting at the basic point of personal contact, obliterating the long-range attitude of mutual dislike, and the misunderstanding of mere surface characteristics, that provides the fast and furious fun, and has made "So This Is London" the greatest laughing success of recent years. The story hinges on the visit of an American multi-millionaire, who has an intense hatred of everything English, to Great Britain. He comments contemptuously on everything he sees, his usual expression being, "So This Is London"—from which the play takes its title. The contrasting role is that of an English nobleman, whose dislike of Americans and America is just as rabid. Of course, they are both wrong, but it takes the playwright three acts, packed solid with fast and furious fun, to prove this fact, while working out an amusing love story that is replete with many surprises. The company that will present this clever comedy in Danville is the same superb organization that played over four months at Cohan's Grand Opera House, Chicago. Among the notable associate players with Mr. and Mrs. Cohan, are Lumsden Hare, Jill Willis, Belle D'Arcy, Chester Morris, Keet Munro, Fannie Ripple, E. F. Hest, George V. Brooks and Charles Hancock.

TO INVESTIGATE NAVAL PRISONS

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 23.—An investigation of all naval prisons at Portsmouth, N. H., and Parris Island, S. C., will be made by Secretary Wilbur at an early date. The naval secretary said today he had concluded a study of records in many court-martial cases before the department and it was his opinion that the department had shown every consideration in treating with all justice the cases of men now imprisoned. The inspection trip he explained, would be made with a view of determining in what manner the men in confinement are being treated.

BROADCASTING NEWSARKANSAS DELEGATES WON'T HURT PAPERS ARE INSTRUCTED

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 23.—No evidence that dissemination of news by radio would affect the publication or demand for newspapers was reported today by a committee on radio at the opening sessions of the annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

"At present the radio broadcasting stations of large newspapers engaged in this experiment," the committee reported, "can still be regarded as an expensive publicity feature producing an intangible but undoubtedly valuable good-will."

The report disclosed that although in October, 1922, there were 100 newspapers operating broadcasting stations, the number since had fallen to 45. This was due, said the committee, to the perfection of longer range receiving apparatus, the wider influence of large central broadcasting stations with better programs and the consequent elimination of smaller, local broadcasting units.

Paul Patterson, of the Baltimore Sun, association president, said the news print situation was wholly favorable. The supply was ample, and prices would probably remain at the present level. The outlook for excellent transportation service appeared bright, he declared.
